Teaching is the Core: Assessment Audit Summary and Action Plan

∞ Action Plan ∞

#	Action	Timeline
1	In an effort to be more transparent, Heuvelton Central School District will communicate to the stakeholders that an assessment audit took place in January and February of 2015 which has resulted in a reduction in testing redundancy and the overall number of assessments which students are required to take. Stakeholders can view the summary on the school website, via newsletter, board presentation, Facebook page and open house.	Spring 2015
2	Professional development will focus on training faculty in the use of the Teaching is the Core adapted rubric and checklist for a self-reflective tool in developing assessments.	Spring-Summer 2015
3	Professional development will focus on developing a plan for data-driven instruction and eDoctrina training.	Summer 2015 School year 2015-2016
4	To assist staff in clarifying their role and responsibilities in supporting a school-wide or district-wide measure, professional development will be collaborative and school-wide. Additionally, professional development will address strategies, shifts and protocols to be used by teachers across all content areas in an effort to support the school-wide measure.	School year 2015-2016
5	The administrators and district teacher leaders will develop a plan to continue the work begun and create a vision for moving forward with the district teacher leader model.	Spring-Summer 2015 School year 2015-2016
6	Professional development will be provided for grades K-12 instructional staff to implement strategies to support literacy and math skills across the curriculum.	School year 2015-2016
7	Heuvelton Central School District will explore the feasibility of reducing assessments needed for AIS/RTI through a careful analysis of its current program for redundancy and to insure student needs are being met.	Spring-Summer 2015
